

Characteristics of an Effective Remote Learning Teacher

Uses technology platforms to address standards and increase student learning.

Is proficient in technology that allows him or her to meet students' needs.

Incorporates student engagement in both synchronous and asynchronous learning opportunities.

Uses technology tools to help students organize their own learning and shift to independence.

Nurtures an online community and is an active participant in that community.